

Women in Business

Ulster Bank

TOMORROW BEGINS TODAY

Introduction

As long-standing supporters of Women in Business, we understand the challenges women might face when setting up or running businesses. And we're committed to making Ulster Bank part of the number one banking group for enterprise by supporting UK businesses to start, scale and succeed.

Part of this commitment is to provide support to women who've faced even more barriers to starting or growing a business. Through our Women in Business programme, NatWest Group has provided tailored support and expertise for female entrepreneurs by doing the following.

- Committed to supporting 35,000 businesses across the UK through our enterprise programmes in 2023, with 50% of support going to females.
- Established a Women in Business programme, with more than 1,000 independently accredited Women in Business specialists (accredited by Chartered Banker Institute and certified by everywoman).
- Launched The Rose Review of Female Entrepreneurship in March 2019 by Alison Rose at the request of the UK Government, which examines the barriers that women in business face and what can be done to overcome them.

We have three key areas where we can offer you help and support.
